

NO PROVISIONS FOR EMPLOYEES

Harris-Day Code Says Nothing
About Sergeant-at-Arms or House Chaplain.

CAUCUS DELAYS ANY ACTION

It was brought out in the Democratic house caucus this morning that the Harris-Day code makes no provision for a sergeant-at-arms or chaplain of the house.

Representative Luther Harrison called this matter to the attention of the caucus. He expressed the view, however, that the law provides for the appointment of three assistant sergeants-at-arms.

A motion was put to proceed with the election of assistant sergeants-at-arms, but Representative Durant advised that since some of the house members had stated they had not become acquainted with the various candidates for clerical position, it would be only fair to them to postpone selection of employees until later. The caucus decided to defer the matter until 4 o'clock this afternoon when another house caucus will be held.

The caucus adopted a motion by Representative Paul Nesbitt for the appointment of a temporary legal advisory committee of three to investigate the matter of house employees as to interpretation of the Harris-Day code and report this afternoon. Caucus Chairman Hunter appointed Representative Plinkham, Glasco and Wright to this committee.

The three assistant sergeants-at-arms also act as doorkeepers of the house. The candidates presented to the caucus for first assistant sergeant-at-arms were: H. I. Sadler, of Norman; John T. Perkins of Caddo county; former Representative W. O. Carr of Muskogee; J. C. Thomas of Coal county; O. W. Taylor of Pontotoc county and John Chesebrough of Altus.

BONDSMEN ARE SUED

County Commissioners Bring Action to Collect from Bondsmen the Salary Paid to Storm as Clerk.

An echo of the long fought Parmastorm controversy was heard this morning when the board of county commissioners filed suit in district court against W. W. Storm, E. H. Cooke and Ed L. Dunn, his bondsmen, in Storm's appeal from the decision of the superior court for $4,950.70, the amount of salary paid Parmastorm after he had established his right to the office of county clerk.

At the time the case was appealed, Storm executed bond in the amount of $4,000 on which the county commissioners are now bringing suit, claiming that because of this the county has been compelled to pay the salary twice.

TO SAVE ORPHANAGE

President Garrison of Baptist Orphan's Home Calls on Churches to Help Save It From Foreclosure.

A campaign to raise $20,000 to pay off the indebtedness of the Baptist Orphan's Home was started in many of the Oklahoma City churches yesterday. Talks were made by workers in the coming campaign, and ministers everywhere urged their congregations to lend their aid at this time.

The home is covered by a mortgage of $12,000, which falls due on January 25, according to J. B. Garrison, president of the board of trustees of the home, who is at the head of the campaign. He has enlisted the aid of Miss Anne Bancroft Counahne, an experienced campaign manager, and who has headed campaigns of a like nature in many of the large cities of the country. Under her direction five committees composed of twenty teams of ten men each are to work. Each team will be headed by a captain. These teams will have charge of the subscription lists.

A special plea offered by President Garrison is that the home is not sectarian, but has taken always and will continue to take into its care children of any or no religion. The campaign promises to be a warm one and the backers are pledged to work until the desired sum is raised.

"It means a matter of a home for the many children now under our care," said President Garrison, "and if the mortgage is foreclosed when it falls due, as it will be unless we get the money at once, the little children will be homeless, without a roof over their heads."

The teams will begin work at once, he stated, and it is believed by officers of the board of trustees that the needed sum will be raised with little or no trouble.

ONLY ONE "Tasteless Quinine," that is Ferriline. Buy it in 2-ounce original package. The name FERRILINE is blown in bottle. 25 cents.

Howell, when called to the bench answered the judge's questions in characteristic slang, and in much the manner of the melodrama tough. "Say bo," and "sure, cutie" were among the expressions that made the judge's eyes open and no time was lost in giving Howell his invitation to leave. The boy was picked up in the Santa Fe depot several nights ago. He has "bummed" across the continent once and is now on his second trip, he asserted.

BONDSMEN FOR LEVY WITHDRAW

Action of Surety Company Further Complicates Court House Affair.

Things around the court house took an unexpected turn when Harold Lee, clerk of the superior court, was notified by Harry W. Pentecost, representative of the Southwestern Surety company of Houston, Tex., that he had appeared before the county commissioners and had withdrawn from the company from the bond of D. S. Levy, who was elected on an independent ticket to the office of superior court clerk.

It is alleged discovery has been made of two indictments returned against Levy by the grand jury in 1908 and of the fact that he was sentenced to the state hospital for insanity at Norman and served a term there, beginning January 8, 1907.

The charges. One of the indictments returned on May 4, 1906, charged Levy with forgery of a draft for $150 issued April 2, payable to the order of J. A. Stinson, and signed E. C. Wehle, Louisville, Ky. The other, returned on April 18 of the same year, on the State bank of Oklahoma City to D. A. Sacks, amount of $25 and is endorsed by George Barnett. It is charged in this case that the amount was raised to read $75 instead of $25 as originally made.

These cases, it was discovered, never have been prosecuted and are still pending, having been quashed when they came up for trial, on motion of the county attorney. At the time the indictments were quashed, it was shown that Levy had been committed to the insane asylum at Norman from Pottawatomie county on January 8, 1907, so that it was thought useless to try to prosecute the charges.

A letter received by one of the county officials from the superintendent of the hospital, D. W. Griffin, says that the records are so incomplete in Levy's case that nothing can be learned as to the nature of his conduct while there. The letter adds: "I take it for granted, however, that on account of his short stay his condition was not considered very bad."

Mr. Lee in the meantime is holding down the office as clerk, though he said this morning that he is ready and willing to turn over all books and records as soon as Mr. Levy shall qualify, and will not attempt to hold over.

REVIVAL HAS STARTED

Evangelist Williams Was Greeted by Two Large Audiences Yesterday at the United Brethren Revival.

Two large audiences greeted Evangelist E. Williams yesterday at the United Brethren church, Tenth and Durand. Mrs. Williams, wife of the evangelist, has already organized a chorus of more than fifty voices. A big orchestra is being gathered for the meeting.

Dr. Williams opened the revival with two strong sermons. In the forenoon his subject was "The Church-Back to Christ." At night, "Where Art Thou?" Mrs. Williams sang "Jesus is All the World to Me."

Doctor Nine announced that Monday night would be church night. Every church member as well as sinners is invited to hear Doctor Williams' message to church members. The meetings begin promptly at 7:30. Mrs. Williams will conduct a half hour of song service. There will be a big children's meeting Tuesday evening at 4:15, immediately after the close of the schools, with Mrs. Williams in charge.

NOTICE TAKEN OF A CONTEST

Republicans in Caucus Officially Pass Upon Fight Between Republican and Democrat in Kay County.

The Republican caucus this afternoon took official notice of the contest for representative between C. L. Pinkham, Democrat, and W. W. Whitmore, Republican, in Kay county. The contest will more than likely be presented to the house immediately. Unlike other counties from which more than representative is sent, Kay is not divided into districts but candidates are elected at large. Kay has two representatives.

The returns as certified by the county election board show that Pinkham was elected over Whitmore by one vote. In West Miller township ballots which Whitmore contends should have been counted for him were counted for Pinkham. Several ballots were cast for the Socialist candidate in which the voter placed a cross in the party emblem at the top of the ballot then went down to the name of Harris, candidate for the legislature. Here a cross was placed.

This name happened to be just opposite Pinkham, who was on the Democratic ticket. It is said that the election officials interpreted the voter to mean that he voted for Pinkham as well as the Socialist candidate, although no cross was placed opposite Pinkham's name. It is said these votes were counted for the Democratic candidate and Whitmore contends they should not have been counted for the Democrat.

McCRORY URGES FEW MEASURES

Speaker Selected By the House
Caucus Says There Is Work
Resides Making Bills.

The house Democratic caucus this morning unanimously selected A. McCrory of Jefferson county, editor of the Ringling News, as its candidate for speaker of the house of representatives. This is equivalent to his election as the Democrats have an overwhelming majority in the house.

For the first time in the history of the state the name of but one candidate for speaker was presented to the Democratic house caucus. McCrory had no opposition, all other candidates for speaker having withdrawn Saturday after Governor-elect Williams had thrown his support to McCrory. McCrory was elected by acclamation. His name was presented to the caucus by Representative Paul Nesbitt of McAlester.

Many Seconds. Some twenty or thirty members elect of the house seconded the nomination in short speeches. Ben Harrison, former secretary of state, showed that he harbors no feelings of bitterness, even though he was practically put out of the running through the opposition of Governor-elect Williams, when he made a seconding speech in which he declared that he would work in accord with McCrory for the best interests of the Democratic party.

Tom W. Hunter of Hugo, who was a leading candidate for speaker, was unanimously chosen as chairman of the Democratic house caucus. His name was presented by Representative Glasco of Furlow, who was also a candidate for speaker.

Representative Ben Harrison presented the name of W. A. Durant of Durant for speaker pro-tem of the house of representatives and the caucus chose him unanimously as its candidate for the position.

G. C. Childers of Enid was elected without opposition as secretary of the Democratic house caucus.

McCrory Not Tied. Mr. McCrory in acknowledging his selection for speaker made a very brief speech in which he declared that he will assume the office with absolutely clean hands and without being in a position to serve the entire membership of the house. He requested the cooperation of every member.

He said, however, that every member should introduce the bills that the people want but should not get the impression that it is necessary to introduce a lot of bills in order to impress the people at home that their representative is busy. He pointed out that there is plenty of work for active members outside of fattering bills.

The caucus was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning in the house chamber in the India Temple building, Second and Broadway.

The caucus was called to order by Luther Harrison of Seminole county and adjourned until 4 o'clock this afternoon when it will take up the selection of house employees.

TO GET HOUSE PLACE

Miss Jane Collier Is Stated For Journal Clerk at Coming Session of Legislature.

It is understood that Miss Jane Collier of this city will be journal clerk of the house of representatives.

Miss Collier was journal clerk at the last session and made a good record. She was recently appointed as one of the executive stenographers for Governor-elect E. L. Williams. It is understood however that the next chief executive has given his permission for her to serve as journal clerk before she assumes her duties in his office.

SHAW HAS ALSO QUIT THE RACE

Senator Mitchell Now Has No Opposition and Will Be Made Speaker Pro-tem of Senate on First Ballot.

Senator E. L. Mitchell of Chayenne will be president pro-tem of the senate. This was determined definitely this afternoon when Senator C. C. Shaw of Mill Creek, the only other candidate for the place, withdrew from the contest.

"I agreed to withdraw as a candidate for president pro-tem of the senate," said Senator Shaw, "with the understanding that the committee chairmanship and assignments are to be equitably distributed between the friends of Senator Mitchell and myself. I consider it in the best interests of harmony and of the party to withdraw from the race."

Senator Shaw will be a member of the committee on committees which in the senate makes the committee assignments subject to final approval of the whole body.

The Democratic senate caucus will be held at 8 o'clock tonight and Senator Mitchell's name will be the only one presented for the caucus choice. Senator M. R. Halsey has been agreed upon by senate members for chairman of the Democratic senate caucus.
